Santa Claus Love Story ... a Hit!

While all of the shows that the Harmonizers do at the holiday season are terrific, this year's show appeared to be very entertaining. The audience liked our singing, the general theme of the show, and the flow. The story line was easy to follow and they became part of the show as they journeyed with Chris and Mary Claus down memory lane. The kids were very good and an audience pleaser. Vida said this was one of the best group of kids she has ever worked with. The quartets enhanced the overall story as they wandered from scene to scene. The actors—Jim, Marie, Gil, and Linda—told the story through their actions and kept the audience interested. The music was a good blend of holiday spirit, love connection, and good old standbys. Many of our audience said they went away full of the holiday spirit and ready for Christmas. The fact that the chorus stayed on the risers and sang helped build the success of the music. They all seemed to like what we were doing and many comments were about the wonderful holiday theme in the show. We need to make sure we learn from this as to how we satisfy what the audience wants. They want "Christmas" in our show.

My partner, Carmen, did a great job in bringing the set alive with great scenery and usage of props. He and his team really got it together. As I have already indicated in my e-mail, you all deserve a big THANK YOU for your part in the show. Don,

Lee, and the Music Team were right on in getting us ready to give the best performance we could. Many great ideas. Several have credited me with the writing and story line, but it was a joint effort by the show team. We developed the story line at a brainstorm session (Rusty, Don, Mark, George, Carmen) in late July, choosing Santa and Mrs. Claus over Ralph and Alice Kramden as our narrators. Don put down the song list on August 6, and Rusty had the script to us on August 8. Of course, Sandy gave us some fabulous costumes for the kids, Santas, and Mrs. Claus.

This was all part of a bigger plan to keep the show fairly simple and understandable and, most of all, fun for the chorus and the audience. I think we did that. The "Twelve Days of Christmas" was a very big hit and Don and his Silent Knight box team masterfully presented a fun package. Thank you Don for your special effort even though stressed and, at times, in pain. You are a special man.

The publicity followed the plan and was enhanced by Norm, Lee, Jack, and a few others. Jim Lester and Mike Fordice worked well to get our ads over budget and produce an outstanding program book. All of this really helped drive the ticket sales along with the record group sales and chorus involvement this year. Sharon Cole was outstanding with the phone sales. Thanks Lee for the use. In addition, Desi and Regina came up with the great concept of working with the Hunterdon Medical Center Foundation. This provided an opportunity for them to raise some funds and help strengthen the show's publicity.

The total revenue for the show will be slightly higher than the very successful Return of the Grinch in 2004, and will approach the most profitable show Capital Christmas in 2007. Expenses for both the Grinch and Capital Christmas were much higher than for this show. Our audience numbers of around 750 are the best in some time, but will not catch the 996 for Capital Christmas.

We received standing O's at both shows for the fine effort by all of you. Like our audience, I give you and the ladies in the lobby and our wives and families, prolonged standing O's for a job well done. Thank you one and all and may you and your families have a wonderful Christmas and Joyous New Year.

—Ron Newsom and Carmen Olivo

Marie Commerford as Mrs. Claus; Gil Lawley as Nick/young Santa; and Jim Knight as Santa Claus.

LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

by Rob Lucchesi

The BHS Mid-Atlantic District held its annual Leadership Academy on Saturday, November 12, at the Morris Plains Community Center in Morris Plains, NJ. The event was organized by George "Oley" Olson, Northern Division Vice-President. As a soon-to-be new member of our Hunterdon Harmonizer Board, I found it to be a great opportunity to learn about the responsibilities of my new position as 2012 Membership VP, and to jumpstart planning for 2012. Also attending the academy from our chapter was President Jim Lester.

Classes were offered for President, Secretary, Treasurer, Music & Performance, Chapter Development, and Marketing & PR. Among the instructors for these five courses were our own Lee Roth (Marketing & PR), and Christian Hunter (Chapter Development). Mark Bentley, who serves as a Chapter Counselor for the Northern Division, also volunteered to help run the event. Rounding out the faculty were Doug Brown (President) – a 28 year member, Walt Lane (Secretary) – a 19 year member, Steve Stojowski (Treasurer) – a 13 year member, and Terry Reynolds (Music & Performance) – a 28 year member.

Jim Lester reported that he found the sessions conducted by Doug Brown to be very informative and full of ideas on how to manage chapter activities and personnel.

I think the most important insight I gained from the day is that increasing our membership takes the combined effort of every member. Each person we know or meet in the course of a day gives us an opportunity to introduce someone to the joy of singing as part of a barbershop chorus. And this opportunity is no greater than after a spectacular Harmonizer performance. This approach was reinforced by many others in the Chapter Development session. So as Lee Roth has often stated, "If it is to be, it is up to me."

Thanks to the efforts of many, the 2011 holiday show was a great performance and financial success. Many “carried their part” very well and contributed well beyond the sound of their voices. For the first time the afternoon audience attendance eclipsed the evening performance. The “Twelve Days” concluding song and activity put a smile on all faces and was an appropriate way of adding a final dash of Christmas “spirit” to the occasion. We succeeded in our goal as an entertainment chorus. Attendees were very vocal in their positive reviews of the show as they filed from the building. An exhausted crew of songsters and actors made their way to the Afterglow, depleted from activity, but rewarded by the applause and approbation of the audiences.

We now move toward the final performances of the year—the library show and caroling at the Medical Center—before taking on the challenges that confront us in 2012.

The new Board of Directors will be installed by George “Oley” Olsen, Northern Division Vice President, at the Installation and Recognition Dinner on Saturday, January 14, 2012. The dinner will take place at the Beaver Brook Country Club in Annandale beginning at 6 p.m. Invitations are in the mail. Check with me if you need additional information. The cost for members who are 17 and under will be covered by the chapter. The BOTY (Barbershopper of the Year) award will be presented at this event.

Many thanks go to Greg Robinson for his work as Program VP this year as he turns over the keys to Art Cole. Steve Sawin also takes over for Lee Roth in the Music VP spot as Lee moves to Marketing VP. Two other new members join the board as Rob Lucchesi replaces Christian Hunter as Membership VP and Eric Johnson replaces Desi Desvernine as Member-at-Large. Thanks also to Christian and Desi for their contributions to the board.

Our first activity in the new year after the dinner will be Singing Valentines which will be scheduled at various times on February 12, 13, and 14. The Music Committee under the direction of Steve Sawin will be busy qualifying singers and putting together quartets. Mike Fordice has ordered and will be making available new part sequences of the two Polecats used for the Valentine outings. George Schwerdt and Mark Bentley will be handling the quartet qualifications.

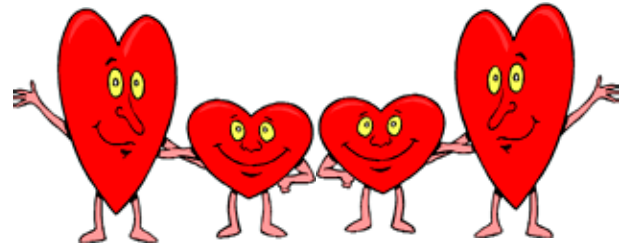

A number of exciting new repertoire songs will be added in the first part of the year. A Beach Boys’ Medley containing “Wouldn’t It Be Nice,” “Barbara Ann,” “Surfer Girl,” “California Girls,” “Fun-Fun-Fun,” and “I Get Around” will get us started. Also on the front burner are “An American Trilogy,” “No Business Like Show Business,” and “If I Had My Way.”

Our thoughts and prayers go out to Don Reckenbeil and his family as he begins his battle against cancer. Don’s spirited leadership has meant a great deal to the Harmonizers over the past several years. We wish him a speedy recovery and look forward to his return to the front of the chorus.

May your days be merry and bright! Wishing you and yours a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

—Jim Lester

A UNIQUE WINTER PROJECT OPPORTUNITY

We are working on our preparations for the New Year. Our first fund raiser for 2012 is the Singing Valentine activity, February 11, 12, 13 and 14. We need a “few good men” to start working on the planning of the program. The Music Team handles the audition process and qualifies quartets to go out.

However, others are needed to help with sales and publicity, logging in orders, setting up the routes for the quartets, and arranging for flower delivery. Check with Jim Lester or Steve Sawin and help to warm many hearts over Valentines weekend.

HOLIDAY SHOW PROMOTION 2011

by Lee Roth

Did you notice the quantity and quality of promotion and advance publicity that our holiday show received this year? Did you wonder how it happened? Did it just happen, or did someone (if so, who) do something to make it happen? I can tell you that it was not one thing, or one person, and it did not just happen.

It all started with a determination to really push early ticket sales. The pricing called for a 25% discount on tickets bought before the show. The show chairmen and the Board made that early determination. The second step was the suggestion from Desi Desvermine and his wife, Regina, that we adopt the Hunterdon Medical Center as a beneficiary of some of the ticket sales. They, and show chairman Ron Newsom, followed up with the Medical Center Foundation. The Foundation was receptive, in fact enthusiastic, and the Board went along with the idea. The Medical Center is a major advertiser in local newspapers. They included a graphic and information about the show in one of their newspaper inserts.

The next step was the design of a post card by Mike Fordice. The Chamber of Commerce mailing list of all of their members was acquired. Our own list was compiled by Jim Lester, Matt Mathews, and Dave Holzwarth and Jim put out a mailing of the card to all of the names on that enhanced list. We wanted people to reserve the date and open the door for our guys to sell early tickets.

Mike also changed the Chapter web site so that it prominently featured the show on the home page and added a graphic for the show at the top of the navigation menu. There is also an entire web page for the show. We can measure the usefulness of the web site in that there have been 48 direct ticket sales through the web. Of course all of our press and Blog information gave people the web address, illustrating how the various efforts work together to support each other.

A flyer was put together by Mike. Copies were made available and distributed to all of our members to share with their friends, post at their place of employment, etc. It was also provided in electronic form for wider and easy distribution.

Jack Gardner wrote a press release about the show. It was put in a format that has been used for a number of years and Sharon Cole saw to getting it into the hands of all of the publications that serve our area. She sent it both physically through the post office in our big red envelopes with a picture from a prior show, and in electronic form. She then followed up with telephone calls to all of the publications. It ran in several publications. These stories included our web address and telephone number.

The Chamber of Commerce radio program people saw it and called and connected with our web site to invite us to have a spokesman appear as the featured guest to be interviewed on their morning broadcast. That was done and our Holiday CD was made available and three cuts from the CD were played on the air<sup>1</sup>.

Norman Diegnan, one of our new guys, a real find among our members as a PR & Marketing guy, jumped into the process and made contact with three different publications where he knew people through his business. He arranged for several events that went beyond what we usually experience.

He arranged for a quartet of Ron Newsom, Pat Cerillo, Rusty Williams, and Don Reckenbeil, to appear at the office of the Hunterdon County Democrat to sing for a video camera and that appearance appeared on the NJ.com web site.

He also arranged for an interview of three people, Rusty a long time member, Rob Lucchesi a new member, and Don our director. Those interviews, and the photos from a picture shoot at a rehearsal that he also arranged, constituted a story in the Courier newspapers. Of course that would not have been as interesting, or would not have gotten the coverage, if most of the guys had not cooperated and dressed in their elf outfits for the picture shoot.

Also Sandy Bonnell, who owns The Only Game in Town, a costume shop, was there and dressed our actors and the Harmonizer kids so they could add interest for the photo shoots. Vida Allworthy, our choreographer, had the Harmonizer kids, dressed in their wooden soldier outfits, organized to catch the eye of the photographers to provide even more interest and expand the coverage. Publications love kids.

Norman also arranged for a picture shoot by a Democrat photographer at another of our rehearsals. Again the guys cooperated by dressing to make the photos interesting.

I had been blogging for the Review newspapers and posted at least three entries, with photos, on the preparation for the show. Norman suggested to them that they do a story about me, and of course the show. The owners of the Review also own the Today in Hunterdon publication. They had a freelance writer visit with me and her story appeared on the front of that publication together with a photo of me singing with my old quartet. They included an information box with information about the show: place, times, and how to get advance tickets, including our web address and telephone number.

An additional number of post cards were made available to our guys. I carried a few with me and handed them out to various people at events I attended. I have given them to clients, to people at Chamber of Commerce events, and at Bar Association events. You will find a few in the waiting room of my doctor, for example. A lot of our guys do so too. I saw them passed out at the Lions Club holiday dinner where we entertained. One of our guys went around and put one on every table.

I am not sure what else may have appeared from this effort by so many. I know the newspapers read their fellow publications and they do not want to be left out when a good story gets going. Much of what we all have accomplished here may have really started with Desi, Regina, and Ron making arrangements with the Medical Center. I attended a program about getting publicity at which the managing editor of the Democrat spoke. He said that local publications cannot resist giving coverage to an organization that is doing something that benefits another local nonprofit organization such as the Medical Center. Also it is much easier to get good coverage because of the base of good will and coverage that we have built up over the years.

We should continue this level of effort all next year to make the Hunterdon Harmonizers even better known in the community. Success in doing so will lead to better ticket sales, increased Singing Valentines, and increases in our singing membership. It will also make it easier to acquire sponsors as we go forward.

Treasurer's Report: M. Matthew provided a written narrative report at each meeting. Over the two months addressed by the September and October meetings, the total cash position decreased but with no unexpected activities. District expenses were the major item.

Correspondence Items: Note thanking us for singing at Rolling Thunder (from Lee Roth). Note regarding NJ Council of the Arts grant (from Jim Lester)

Membership Dues Report: Overdue members: Gordon Braun, Bob Burnet, Dave Corsetto, Chris Heitkamp, Dan Heitkamp, Nick Heitkamp, Doug Lykes, Tom Mariano, Jim Siverly, Jay Steinberger, Marty Vanderwall. Coming due soon are: Desi Desvernine, David Hason, Kyle Lucchesi, Rob Lucchesi, George Rodney, Max Sabor, Goose Stauffer

Membership: Christian Hunter (September) commended those with a 90% attendance and above. He mentioned that we won't be using the contest send-off as a guest night. Norman Diegnan and Alan Epstein were approved for membership. (October) Christian indicated that should plan on updating the new member orientation packet and brochure in 2012.

Music and Performance: Lee Roth led a discussion around whether we should look at changing the criteria for auditioning potential new members.

Program: (September). Greg Robinson is considering a pizza and soda night on 11Oct. Some board members expressed that a fun night with instruments was a good idea and should be considered.

Marketing and Public Relations: Jack Gardner (September) printed out our first press release for holiday show and has talked with the hospital PR editor. The Holiday Show will be in the HMC newsletter. An announcement will be in the Democrat and Jack will be sending out more press releases. We will need pictures of characters in the Holiday Show near the end of Oct. Jim Lester is getting the Chamber of Commerce newsletter, which has membership that we can add to the current mailing list. (October): Jack emailed a note to Jim with updates, and reported that the PR draft for the Holiday Show had been sent to Lee for review.

Financial Development: Ron Todd (October). We missed deadline for submitting proposal for the County Grant. Because of a mix up with our address, we have an extension to get it in as soon as possible. Ron explained that the report is now written, and after review, he will hand deliver it.

Members-At-Large: (September): Desi mentioned that the announcements at the September Craft Fair referring to our partnership with HMC and the Holiday Show sounded good. John Reimer discussed upcoming plans. (September): John Reimer reported that the last Risers meeting was on the 13th with a session with Stephanie Britson. The next meeting is on 03Nov. with a visit from Untamed talking about how quartets are formed, etc.

OLD BUSINESS

Nominations committee: Steve Sawin reported that we have a full slate. New officers, if possible, should attend the Leadership Academy on 12Nov in Morristown. The slate will be presented at 27Sep meeting and the following week. Elections will be at the 11Oct meeting. The new officers must be filed with the Society by 01Dec2011.

Leadership Academy: Rob Lucchesi will be going to the upcoming Leadership Academy. Steve Sawin won't be able to make it. Jim Lester is considering going. Jim will talk to Erik Johnson to see if he wants to go. Rich Cornelison may be interested in the marketing course.

Groupanizer: Carmen talked to people who are using it. The consensus is that it is alright for distributing information but finding that the voting feature is not helpful. Jim will continue to move forward with it.

InTune: (October) Several articles were suggested: Lee regarding Contest, Ron Newsom regarding the Holiday Show, Matt regarding the Sing Out in Lambertville and John Reimer regarding the Risers Meeting. It was also mentioned that we still need an editor/producer for next year.

Storage facility clean up: (September)s scheduled for 08Oct. (October) Five people showed up.

Craft Fair: Market Roost thanked us for bringing people downtown. They suggested that we consider having another fair in the spring. Rich Cornelison is thinking about it.

NEW BUSINESS

Use of PO Box address: It was mentioned that we should all be using the PO Box for any correspondence regarding the Harmonizers. This will avoid confusion when people use an old address that they've had for a number of years.

Additional Performances: A motion to send an ensemble to Lion's club dinner was made, seconded and passed. Also the Clinton Guild is looking for a group at Dickens' Days. We discussed that maybe a quartet can go for Dicken's Days.

Top Gun Coaching Opportunity: Ron Black will be in the area in Jan 2012. For a coaching session we only need to pay the coaching fee. He is available on 06Jan (Fri) or 08Jan (Sun). We need to know the cost. We may offer the opportunity to quartets but they need to pay the fee. It's probably a "no" for the chorus.

Chamber of Commerce: The Business and Home expo is on 11Oct from 2 to 7 pm. Lee suggested that we attend and talk with the businesses that have booths there. Jack suggested that we have a PR packet.

Holiday Show Ad Book: Greg asked board to authorize a small ad in our holiday show program book thanking some of our benefactors, and also suggested that we give other chapters free ad space for their shows if they do the same for us. The Board decided against this idea.

General: (September). It was discussed that we should keep meeting portion at rehearsals shorter so that we can sing more. However, we also need to prevent Don from going over his time. Another comment was made about possibly shifting practice start time to 7:30 pm. (October). Jim mentioned that we should review and revise if necessary our by-laws for next year.

Lee mentioned that we should focus a little more time on setting policies and future planning than we currently do during our board meetings.

Respectfully submitted,
David Holzwarth, Secretary

MEMORIAL FOR RICH CRONCE

by Matt Matthews

At the Memorial Service yesterday, I couldn't help but notice two very special people—I'd call them angels!—they are both after all, tiny-tots!!

We can see Trevor Cronce filing for Barbershop Harmony Society membership right away. According to Angie, he is as gregarious as his father. Apparently, he goes to anybody—with a ready smile. Even to strangers like Uncle Art! He definitely had a rousing response to our singing. In the middle of our presentation Angie brought him up to the front of the church so they could both immerse themselves in the songs/music. I couldn't hazard a look; that moment was much too intense for me!

Not to be outdone, another star audience member was Dave Hason's daughter. She cheered us on with a gusty "yay!" after every one of our songs. During Remix's presentation she came up to the front of the church with her "blankie," settled down on the steps (to the altar) and invited her mother to join her there! In what was a very focused, retrospective, and somber session, this brought a welcome smile and laughter into the space.

I thank God for both of those young 'uns...

Remix at the memorial service.

THE BULLETIN CHANGES HANDS

Linda and I advised the Board in August that we'd not be able to continue with editing and publishing the "In Tune" after December. That time has arrived. This decision was made with regret, since it has been a real pleasure to be a face and voice of this wonderful chapter for 12 years.

In October, 1999, Linda took on the task of editing the Hunterdon Harmonizers' newsletter. It was a 2-page bulletin at that time, growing to 3 pages in January 2000, 5 pages by May, etc. (do you get the picture?). Contributions from our leaders enabled the "In Tune" to continue growing as a reporting, educational, motivational, and fun part of our chapter. There was Society resistance to accepting a lady as an "official" bulletin editor, but cooler and wiser heads prevailed. The acceptance and recognition of her work was confirmed when Linda was named the Mid-Atlantic Bulletin Editor of the Year in 2006, and the International Bulletin Editor of the year in 2008. During this period, she also did a 4-year stint as the editor of the District newsletter, the "Mid-I Antics."

Because of increasing family and work commitments, it was necessary to drop the "Mid-I Antics" job last year, and now it is also necessary to pass on the "In Tune" editorial/publication responsibility to a worthy successor (yet to be named).

It has been a great honor to be of service to the Hunterdon Harmonizers, and Linda and I offer our thanks to all of the Harmonizers who have made this a wonderful and fulfilling part of our lives.
